1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

Positive aspects: Teacher-guided class discussions helped to get the feeling that the student himself can actually interpret poems/plays. (I count myself as a very poor literary analyst, but in class I can actually sort of understand and discover the deeper meaning of the works we discuss.).

Intensive (sometimes too ~) study of grammar helps writing one's papers in better English. The thorough punctuation-rule-study helped also a lot!

This year I really learned how to structure an analytical essay! something I should have learned during the past three years... Congrats!! - I very much appreciated that you did not (always) force your interpretations onto the students, but left it for us to decide how to interpret certain works. => You made the students justify (substantiate) their inferences. ~~the~~

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

As I don't particularly enjoy writing analytical papers, I did not like that part of the class overly much. I missed writing doing some creative writing in this course. I realize that creative writing was not part of this course, but I thought I'd just tell you anyways. [Not so many grammar quizzes, please...

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- The vocabulary was helpful although most of the words weren't remembered

- ~~- the plays and~~

- the discussions were quite good

- the vocabulary quizzes were good, they helped a lot

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

- that ^{most of} ~~the~~ plays and stories were "chewed through" so much

Please help me to evaluate this course by answering the following questions. Do not write your name on this paper; your responses should be anonymous.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- I really liked the discussions about philosophical or religious questions or aspects, which were related to the literature we read.
- The Vocabulary Quizzes were pretty helpful
- Really super → The amount of homework was O.K. (This does not mean that we should get more homework next year)

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you feel were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

- We should talk a little bit more about the historical background of the literature or about the period in which the literature was written.
- Students should discuss a little bit more among each other.

Please help me to evaluate this course by answering the following questions. Do not write your name on this paper; your responses should be anonymous.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- Vocabulary quizzes were extremely helpful.
The imitation of a writer's style (ex. poems) clarified the aspects or intentions used.

Punctuation practice as well as grammar practice helped a great deal.

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you feel were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

- The teacher should make sure that the student read the story/poem etc. If the majority of the class has not completed this task, discussion should either be postponed or a synopsis of the story should be held.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- first discussing the period, then examining the pieces, authors
- comparisons

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

- more grammar exercises
- more practice in essay-writing (short-ones)
- too many "correctly punctuate..."

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- very good extra information and interesting side tracks especially when discussing grammatics
- ~~the~~ interesting aspects were pulled out of the works, especially lascivious parallels!
- Mrs. Ellis' plants and your ties

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

- sometimes the discussions were very unorganized and therefore difficult to put into context.
- maybe ~~some~~ some more written work would have helped to get by for the Klausur.
- Mrs. Ellis should get a gift-tree ~~and you~~

Please help me to evaluate this course by answering the following questions. Do not write your name on this paper; your responses should be anonymous.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- I guess the quizzes were quite useful, but after a while you don't bother to learn the words.
- The discussions about literature we've read were also all right.

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

~~un~~ Unfortunately, we didn't get too much involved with the research paper we've had which we've had to hand in.

Also, the way we've read the literature was quite confusing, because sometimes we read several stories at the same time.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- I enjoyed the discussions about the stories we read.
The study of new ^{words} ~~vocabulary~~ was very helpful; it helps to expand ~~to~~ my vocabulary.

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

The first quizzes ~~were~~ where they were over forty words to learn weren't helpful. It is easier to remember words if you learn few at a time.

In the Klausur our errors were marked but not explained. Often I didn't know what was wrong or which words had fit in better.

Please help me to evaluate this course by answering the following questions. Do not write your name on this paper; your responses should be anonymous.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

Talking about stories, poems, plays, etc. and hearing different opinions and interpretations. Reading ^{& watching} modern American lit like C. Bukowski (Bewfly)...

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

Vocabulary: If one is not willing to learn vocab, he won't learn it or he'll forget the terminology after a week. ~~Unprofitable~~
The useful studying of vocabulary must come from oneself.

Please help me to evaluate this course by answering the following questions. Do not write your name on this paper; your responses should be anonymous.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- the essays helped me because I started to be more organized
- my expressions got better

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

- I missed to use fantasy, like writing fantastic stories
- It would be helpful to make a synopsis of the stories we read

Semester 90/2 + 91/1

Please help me to evaluate this course by answering the following questions. Do not write your name on this paper; your responses should be anonymous.

1. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find particularly educational or helpful? What did you enjoy most?

- The vocab quizzes were helpful to improve the AT grade, and, of course, to improve one's vocabulary.
- The punctuation practises were helpful.
- I enjoyed the class discussions, and you should keep up having them frequently.

2. What aspects of the course or the teaching methods employed did you find were not so helpful? What should be changed in the future?

- The practice vocab ~~quizzes~~ quizzes that we had to write at home were too much work and did not help very much (at least not me personally).
- I would like to read longer works next year, not only short excerpts in our school books.
- I don't like filling out questionnaires.
- The seating arrangement in class should be changed (to a circle, f.e.).
